The Columbian.

VOL 26. BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1891. NO. 37

The faces of the town clock are on, and it will very soon be in operation.

The Shamokin Fair is being held this week.

J. Nevin Hill, a prominent attorney of Sunbury, died on Saturday.

All come to the "Pound Party" at Mr. Peter Harman's Friday night September 18th.

Prof. Bakeless made an excellent address at Y. M. C. A. Hall last Sunday afternoon.

A new post office at the mill of Ash & Bro., in Briarcreek, has been established and is now open. The name of the office is Briarcreek.

Some local news on a postal card received last week was not inserted because no name was signed to the card.

Will Fleckenstine has recently added a new three seated carriage to his livery. It is easy to get in and out of, and is very comfortable to ride in.

Town Bond No. 134 is due and should be presented by the holder to R. Buckingham, Town Treasurer for payment.

An error in printing the large posters for the Bloomsburg Fair makes them give the time 2:30 for the farmers trot. This should read 3:00.

W. A. Hartzel is doing quite a livery business at the Exchange Hotel stables. He bought a handsome new two seated double carriage last week, to hire out.

E. A. Rawlings has placed a new meat block in his market. It is of Sycamore wood, and is forty five inches in diameter and perfectly round. The tree from which it was cut must have been an immense one.

The theatrical venture of Eva Mann, the alleged widow of Robert Ray Hamilton, has come to grief. An account of her performance was given last week. Her company stranded at Pottsville on Saturday.

The large iron doors for the new vaults in the Court House are in place. They were purchased of E. C. Morris & Co., Boston. The present Prothonotary's office will be changed into a fire-proof vault.

The Pennsylvania State Firemens convention will be held at Lock Haven September 15th to 18th. The Friendship Fire Company accompanied by the Berwick Band will go there on the 16th, and remain until the 19th.

The classes of Miss Harman and Miss Clark of the Episcopal Sunday School will hold a "Pound Party" at Mr. Peter Harman's residence on Iron street on the evening of September 18th. They will also have refreshments for sale.

Postmaster Cathcart has received orders from the Post Office Department at Washington, to visit all the other offices in the county and report their condition by October 15th. He will receive no extra compensation for this work.

A large black and white dog has been making his home where he is not wanted, for several weeks past. He is of kindly disposition, and has apparently had good treatment. He wears no collar. The owner will confer a favor by calling at this office and removing his property. No charge.

The time for meeting of the North Branch Conference of Susquehanna Synod at Buckhorn changed from October 5th 6th and 7th to September 28th 29th and 30th. Beginning on Monday evening the 28th. Sermon preached by Rev. Barnitz D. D. Western Secretary of Home Mission Board.

The public schools opened Tuesday with an unusually large attendance. The new Course of study was begun, with every indication of proving a success. The attendance was very uniform, there being from 50 to 60 in each room except in the High School where the attendance was much larger. The principal has arranged a large class for graduates next year, with a view of entering the Senior Class at the Normal. A class for the Business Course and Scientific Course has also been arranged. There are a great many new scholars in attendance, some who have lately moved into the town, others who will avail themselves of the advantages now offered by a graded course, while in the primary schools nearly one hundred new ones were admitted.

CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE.

ROHRSBURG, Sept., 8, 1891.

Possibly it would be interesting to some of your readers to know some of the workings of the 58th annual session of the Pennsylvania Christian Conference held at Rohrsburg. In the absence of the President L. S. Brown, C. S. Long was appointed President pro tem and B. A. Bower Secretary pro tem. The first afternoon was devoted to social worship.

In the evening we listened to an able sermon delivered by J. L. Phoenix.

Thursday morning the regular order of business was taken up by appointing committees.

Committee on business, M. S. Blair, G. P. Morse and J. C. Rantz; on Missions, A. W. Conner, G. W. Utt, and C. S. Long; on Resolutions, J. L. Phoenix, E. J. Hart and L. Maxwell; on Obituary, John Ellis, Iram Derr and B. A. Bower; on Auditing, L. Maxwell, G. P. Morse and A. S. Kramer; on Nomination, Hon. Iram Derr, G. P. Morse, Farley Stout; on Enrollment, J. D. Rhone and Jacob Rantz.

In honor of John Ellis' birthday a collection was taken up amounting to $5.32, and presented to him. He is the only Charter member of this Conference now living, he helped to organize the Conference 58 years ago.

E. S. Hart, U. A. White, L. Maxwell, G. P. Morse and Farley Stout were received as members of the Conference.

Thursday evening A. W. Conner preached on the power of the Gospel.

Friday morning at 9 a. m. Convention took up the regular order of business: E. J. Hart, W. L. Hayden and M. S. Blair were appointed as committee to attend to the ordination exercises of L. Maxwell and G. P. Morse after which an address by E. J. Hart on the practical use of Unity was delivered.

At 2 p. m. a communication from Stillwater was read and referred to the Committee on resolutions.

Address by M. S. Blair, The duty of Christian citizens in the present crisis, followed by discussion.

Report of Committee on resolutions was received and read:

1. That we thank our heavenly Father for the watchful care over us during the past year and for the excellent harmony pervading the session of this Conference.

2. In regard to the drink traffic the resolutions of last year were adopted.

3. That we heartily approve of the work of the State Evangelist in his effort to warn the churches against and protect them from all unworthy proclaimers of the Gospel.

4. That we would most earnestly and affectionately urge the churches of this conference to the utmost caution in employing preachers as Pastors or Evangelists and that only such as can bring the best of testimonials as to character be employed.

5. That we urge the churches to keep up their Sunday School work &c.

6. That the work of the Y. P. .S L. E. meets our approval in its undenominational character &c.

7. That we extend our heartfelt thanks to the Christian Friends in this community for their entertainments and Christian greeting.

8. That the thanks of this Conference are hereby given to the W. W. R. R. for favors and courtesies received.

The President appointed a committee of three, J. L. Phoenix, M. S. Blair and E. J. Hart to investigate the request of the Stillwater church report at next session of Conference.

The committee on Missions report that they recommend an Evangelist be placed in this district also other recommendations useless to put in secular paper. On Friday evening, E. J. Hart preached for us by request of the church; J. L. Phoenix stayed and preached over Lord's day to the satisfaction of all.

Also the church at Rohrsburg extend their heartiest thanks to the Male Quartette of Bloomsburg, consisting of Colley, Yette, rEnt and Yost for their valuable aid in music. We think Bloomsburg should feel proud of such talent.

A. S. KRAMER, Secy.

Pigeon Shooting.

A shooting match took place on Drinker's farm last week Thursday. Each one shot at thirteen birds, with the following result:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| W. H. Snyder | 11 | L. Lowenberg | 9 |
| G. M. Quick | 12 | Low | 8 |
| W. F. Bodine | 3 | G. Hunt | 7 |
| W. B. Allen | 8 | B. Hagenbuch | 8 |
| J. H. Mercer | 9 | C. Hagenbuch | 10 |

The real estate of O. A. Jacoby deceased, was offered at public sale on Saturday. The brick house was struck down to Dr. T. C. Harter for $3825. The sale was adjourned on most of the other property, as it was a stormy day and there were but few bidders.

Convention at Stillwater.

The County W. C. T. U. met in Convention at Stillwater, September, 2 and 3. Reports show that there are nine local unions and two Y's in the county with a membership of 137 active members, and 61 honorary; four L. T. L's, with 150 members. Stillwater has added more active members to their organization than any other Union, and carries the county banner for the next six months.

Nearly all Superintendents gave reports, either in person or by letter.

The committee on Plans of Work gave a report which was accepted and a copy of them ordered sent to all local Unions.

There have been 6540 pages of literature distributed since the February convention.

Several excellent essays were read and a vote of thanks tendered the writers. Mrs. Hughes, of Cambra, delighted the convention with several beautiful solos.

The entertainment given by the Y's and L. T. L.'s on Wednesday evening, was a success in every respect, and highly appreciated by the large audience.

The thanks of the convention are extended to the people of Stillwater for their generous hospitality shown us while among them.

The next convention will be held in Millville. SEC.

—Commissioner of Fisheries, S. B. Stilwell, of Scranton, settles one of the disputed questions that has worried the fish wardens in this part of the State. In answer to the inquiry "Is the use of a gig or spear permissable in catching fish?" Commissioner Stilwell quotes two sections of the Act of May, 1889. The first section in clear and positive language, forbids the catching of fish (other than shad, herring and sturgeon) by any means or appliances except rod, hook and line. This excludes every other means, and certainly a gig or spear cannot be considered a rod, hook and line, or either. The 3rd section of that act declares "It shall not be lawful for any person, or persons, to place, build, erect, fasten, or use, any fish baskets, gill nets, pouch nets, or any permanently set means for taking fish in any of the rivers, waters or streams of this Commonwealth." This section must be construed, or interpreted in connection with the first section, and therefore any means or appliances, other than rod, hook and line, falls within the probibition of the third section. In no case is the use of the gig, spear, set or otherwise allowable. The question that puzzles the wardens and one which fishermen would like to have settled definitely, Commissioner Stillwater is not quite ready to decide. He gives it as his opinion that the right of fishermen to use set lines or outlines under the uew fish laws is somewhat difficult to understand, and the privilege should be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction. A Carbondale fisherman was arrested four weeks ago by a Wayne county fish warden for using an outline, but the court before whom the fisherman was tried has not yet rendered a decision in the matter, and this opinion of Commissioner Stilwell is likely to delay matter for a much longer period.—Exchange.

The boys in the Sunday School class of Miss Leverett gave an exhibition of relics, Indian utensils, and many other interesting articles, in Hendershott's store room next to Gilmore's, last Saturday afternoon and evening. Many of the articles were loaned by the owners for the occasion. The admission was ten cents, and the boys realized over $14.00. The money goes toward the purchase of stained glass windows for the new Parish Honse. Each class of the Sunday school has pledged itself to raise a certain amount.

The insinuation of the Sentinel of last week, that the senior editor of this paper is opposing a constitutional convention because he was not accorded an open field as delegate, is in perfect accord with its general style of journalism. Some sinister motive is attributed to every one who comes in contact with the wishes of its editor. The fact is simply that Mr. Elwell declined to be a candidate because he was opposed to a convention as proposed by the Republican party.

Mr. Nicholas Seybert of Luzerne Co. lost his left eye when a boy. The right became almost totally blind in childhood. On Friday last he came to Dr. Brown who performed a successful operation for cataract. His father took the lens home in a vial to show his friends.

J. G. Wells has an elegant assortment of solid silver ware suitable for wedding gifts. His windows attract much attention.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

One of the most enjoyable gatherings it has been our privilege to attend for some time was held at the M. E. parsonage in Jerseytown on Tuesday last in honor of Mrs. Decker's birthday. In order to make the surprise complete, she and her husband, Rev. A. W. Decker, had been purposely invited to spend the day out of town.

When they were just nicely enjoying their visit, they received word they should come home for some one from a distance had come to see them and could not remain long. But imagine if you can, Mrs. Decker's surprise on returning to find not only the expected company but a large number of others present also.

Presently all were invited to partake of the sumptuous repast which had been provided.

Those present from a distance were: Miss Kate Kline, of Sunbury; Miss McWilliams, Mr. Pensyl and daughters of Elysburg, and Miss Nellie Chrisman of Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Davis was the recipient of several handsome presents, which were useful as well as ornamental. When the parting time came we all said good by, feeling the day had been pleasantly and profitably spent and one long to be remembered.

A GUEST.

Shall There Be a Convention?

Pennsylvania has, with the exception of those portions that affect the ballot, a rare good Constitution The difficulty is, that like the old lady's doctrine of total depravity "it isn't half lived up to." The Legislature of the State, has failed in its enactments, to come up to the spirit of this excellent document and what is needed, to-day, is enactments, instead of a new Constitution. There is a much easier way provided for the amendment of the Constitution, than the calling of a Convention and all that is necessary, might be accomplished in other ways, to bring the State into proper relations with the spirit of ballot reform. In the first place, one potent objection to the Convention, is the cost. The Constitutional Convention that made the present Constitution of the State cost upward of $750,000; and it is not at all likely that the proposed Convention would cost less than a million dollars, might greatly exceed that. Secondly, once called, there is no limit to the action of the Convention but its own sweet will, and the present Constitution might be completely changed. Thirdly such a Convention disturbs more or less the actions of the law and judicial proceeding. Litigants and clashing interests, will desire to wait, instead of promptly settling disputes, hoping some changes advantageous to their side may be made. And lastly, our greatest objection, it is as far as corporations is concerned, the most dangerous time to make any change in our Constitution that we have ever known. Never before was the spirit of trusts, gigantic corporations and big individual operators, more persistent, unscrupulous, and more disposed to combine secretly to carry out nefarious schemes of plunder, than the present. It is an ominous time in which to change the Constitution, and if attempted the pressure by consolidated interests would be almost irresistible. The city press, which dominates the thought of the people to-day, was never so thoroughly in the hands of these corporations, as at present. Witness the scandal involving the leading newspapers, the Press, Inquirer, North American, etc., in Philadelphia in connection, with the publication of the Mercantile appraisement lists. We trust when it comes to the election, that the people will promptly vote down the project of a Constitutional Convention.—Troy Gazette.

The action of the Democratic convention must commend itself to all men who are opposed to the corrupt administration of public afiairs. The Republican treasurer of Philadelphia is a convicted thief serving out a sentence in the penitentiary. If reports be true the cashier of the state treasury is a fugitive from the subpœna of the legislative committee which is investigating the financial condition of the commonwealth, and it is believed that he is keeping out of the way because his revelations would involve the reputations of men high up in the counsels of the Republican party. The present condition of things is the natural and logical result of the long practiced principle of the Republican party, that public office is a private snap.

Ent Post and the Bloom band went to Mt. Carmel on Wednesday by rail. The Sons of Veterans went over in Buckalew's Band-wagon with four horses, and Gilmore's Band was drawn in a band wagon with six horses, W. H. Gilmore holding the reins. They left here at five o'clock in the morning.

WALLER.

Miss Jennie Parker and brother, of Williamsport, are visiting relatives at this place.

Mr. B. M. Stiles expects to start for Kansas this week.

The farmers are becoming uneasy about their fall work. It has been raining so much that but very little plowing has been done.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawthorne and her cousin of Crawford county expects to spend a few weeks in this vicinity with their relatives, the Messrs. Kitchens.

Buckwheat is getting ripe, and if we may judge by the straw, there will be an unusually large crop.

A great deal of cider is being made this year on account of the abundance of apples.

Messrs. H. J. Hirleman, M. Hartman and J. Fritz, have each been remembered by Uncle Sam and have lately received tokens of esteem and gratitude.

The potatoes are rotting; some are digging them to prevent it; while others claim it is best to leave them in the ground. If the wet weather continues long there will be few to dig afterwhile.

AN ACT

MAKING AN APPROPRIATION FOR THE PROTECTION AND PROPAGATION OF FISH.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted &c., That the sum of thirty thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to be paid upon the warrant or warrants of the State Fishery Commission, or a majority of them, for expenditures during the two fiscal years beginning June first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety one, for the purpose of hatching and propagating useful food and game fishes, and to stock and supply all the streams, lakes and waters of the Commonwealth with the same, by distributing the impregnated spawn fry to all parts of the State, and for the dissemination of any varieties of fish in the waters of the State, and to employ the necessary labor, service, material and implements therefor, and to pay the necessary and reasonable expenses of the said Fishery Commissioners, and to pay for any improvements and repairs necessary in the State hatcheries; and that the sum of ten thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated for the salaries and expenses of the water bailiffs the Commissioners may appoint or may have appointed, the said sum to cover the salaries for the two years aforesaid; and that the sum of five thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purchase of a fish car, for the purpose of better and more safely transporting fish and fry from the hatcheries to different portions of the State; and the sum of two thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the erection and furnishing a sub-hatchery in Lackawanna or Monroe county, as the commissioners may see fit to locate it.

The said appropriations to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General on a settlement made by him and the State Treasurer, but no warrant shall be drawn on settlement made until the officers of said commission shall have made, under oath, to the Auditor General a report containing an itemized statement of the expense of said commission during the previous quarter and the same is approved by him and the State Treasurer, nor until the Treasuer shall have sufficient money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the quarterly instalment due said commission.

June 20th, 1891.

I approve all the items of the bill making an appropriation for the protection and propagation of fish, except the following:

"And the sum of two thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated for the erection and furnishing of a sub-hatchery in Lackawanna or Monroe county, as the commissioners may see fit to locate it." I am reliably informed by members of the fish commission that there is no immediate or pressing necessity for a few sub-hatchery. The appropriation of two thousand dollars would not in itself be sufficient to provide for such a hatchery and the maintenance thereof, and it would involve and make necessary very much larger appropriations hereafter than are contemplated by this bill. I am of the opinion that the project of establishing another sub-hatchery can with profit be postponed until the necessity for it is more clearly demonstrated, by which time ample appropriation can probably be made for the maintenance as well as the establishment of the same.

ROBT. E. PATTISON.

PERSONAL.

Miss Ella Fox returned to Philadelphia on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W Funston spent last week at Eaglesmere.

G. W. Bertsch spent Thursday in Harrisburg.

Miss Beth Runyon will return to Philadelphia on Saturday.

C. W. Runyan is taking a western trip.

Mrs. Col. Jameson and Miss Carrie have returned from Atlantic City.

C. B. Jackson Esq., spent Wednesday in Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Dr. G. P. Waller, and sons of Chadron, Nebraska, are visiting their relatives here.

Rev. M. L Smyser of Bedford, a former pastor of the M. E. Church of Bloomsburg, was in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Quigley of Jamison City have been blessed by the arrival of a little daughter.

Miss Dora Niles will organize classes in painting in oil, water colors, and china, also crayoning. She will take pupils on the guitar, violin, banjo and mandolin.

Master Horace Waller, accompanied by his mother, started this week for Bloomsburg, Pa., where he will attend the Pennsylvania State Normal School. He will have there the advantages of a thorough manual training school besides other first class advantages. Horace is a bright boy with a big sprinkling of fun in his constitution and will make things hum back in the Quaker state.—Chadron, Nebraska, Advocate.

O'FLYNN IN MEXICO.

On Friday evening in the Opera House will be presented the Great Comedy Drama entitled O'Flynn in Mexico, under the management of W. S. Dibble. The Company carries with them all the scenery for the production of the play. The following from the New York Herald shows how well it was received in that great city:

We have seen handsome stage settings but never have we beheld such a dazzling picture as that revealed as the curtain rolled up on the second act of "O'Flynn in Mexico" last evening. Silk plush on all sides greeted the eye making one think of a fairy palace in the Arabian Nights.

The other scenes were sumptuous and in keeping with the sentiment and surroundings, but this scene far surpassed the others, and in fact any we have ever seen. The management say that they intend to mount the stage in the same elegant manner wherever the play is produced. It will cost a great deal of labor in the one night stands, but as they know their business, and have a method of fitting all their scenes to the size of any stage, a treat is in store for the cities visited.—New York Herald, May 4, '91.

"Pound Party" a new thing, come and see the fun at Mr. Peter Harman's Friday night September 18th.

One of the O. A. Jacoby lots on Market street was purchased by Benjamin Kistler, Mt. Pleasant township, last Saturday.

The cigar makers will hold a dance in Oak Grove Saturday evening, September 12th. Price of tickets 50 cents for all night, or 10 cents a dance, everybody invited.

For the reproduction of our accurate statement of facts, in its issue of last week, concerning its attack on Judge Ikeler, our esteemed cotemporary, the Sentinel, has our thanks.

The Berwick fair last week was well attended, though there were some rainy days. Gambling devices of numerous kinds were permitted on the grounds, and one Berwick man parted with $37.00

The entertainment given at the Opera House last Thursday evening under the direction of J. H. Artope, for the benefit of the A. M. E. Church, was greatly enjoyed by those who attended. Their singers were from Danville and Williamsport.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

An open air meeting under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Sept. 13th on the corner of Market and Fifth streets. Rev. D. J. Waller Sr. will address the meeting on a very interesting subject. Everybody invited. A musical treat has been prepared by the male choir. You come.

The platform adopted by the Democratic state convention will be found in full on the second page.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES.

THE PLATFORM AS ADOPTED BY THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The following is the platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention last week Thursday:

1. We, the representatives of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, renew our pledges of devotion to the principles of our party in the country at large, as declared in the platform of the national convention of 1884 and 1888, and approved in the election of those years by a majority of the American people. We are, as we have always been, in favor of honest and enconomical administration of public affairs; of limiting expenses and reducing taxation to meet the actual necessities of government; of a sound and stable currency based on gold and silver, coined and circulated in such proportions as will keep them on a parity; of a reform and revision of the tariff; of liberal, but just, pension laws, and of all well-considered legislation tending to increase the rewards and lighten the burdens of labor.

2. We realize and affirm that the state election of 1891 in Pennsylvania involves no issue of federal politics; we appeal to honest patriotic citizens, regardless of past party affiliations, to unite in vindicating the honor of this commonwealth and redeeming the fiscal and auditing departments of its government from official abuses and corrupt practices.

3. We arraign and condemn the Republican legislature for having refused to enforce the constitution, by appropriate legislation, for having failed to pass honest and equitable apportionment bills as required by the constitution, for having ignored the demands of labor for relief by law, for having denied the righteous, popular demand for such laws as would distribute the burdens of public taxation equally upon all classes of property, and for having refused to reform long-existing abuses in mercantile appraisement laws, as recommended by the Democratic executive in 1885.

CONDEMNS THE REPUBLICAN LEGISLATURE.

4. We arraign and condemn the republican legislature for the enactment of vexatious, oppressive and vicious legislation, against which the executive veto was interposed for the protection of the people.

5. We arraign and condemn the republican party of Pennsylvania for electing men to state and municipal offices, by whose neglect of duty, complicity, fraud and plunder of the public treasury a million and a half dollars of the people's money have been stolen and squandered.

6. We arraign and condemn the republican auditor general for having permitted John Bardsley, the republican treasurer of Philadelphia city and county, to embezzle a half million dollars of state tax collected by him, which he was permitted to retain for a long period after the same was due and payable.

7. We arraign and condemn the Republican auditor general for having permitted John Bardsley, the Republican treasurer of Philadelphia city and county, to embezzle more than $360,000 of state license moneys collected by him, which he was permitted to retain for a long period after the same was due and payable.

8. We arraign and condemn the Republican auditor general for having conspired with John Bardsley, the Republican treasurer of Philadelphia city and couny, to appoint and retain corrupt mercantile appraisers, who abused their office for their own private pecuniary advantage, robbed the state of its just revenues and imposed upon the commonwealth hundreds of thousands of dollars of needless costs, and we demand the dismissal of the mercantile appraisers of Philadelphia.

9. We arraign and condemn the Republican auditor general for having conspired with John Bardsley, the Republican treasurer of Philadelphia city and country, to speculate in public advertising, and for having received from the publishers of the same bribes to influence their official conduct in placing such advertisements.

STATE OFFICIALS ARRAIGNED.

10. We arraign and condemn the Republican auditor general for having failed to promptly collect the taxes and claims of the commonwealth against delinquent and defaulting public and private corporations.

11. We arraign and condemn the Republican state treasurer for wilfully and knowingly permitting John Bardsley to retain in his possession over a million dollars of money collected for and owing to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by reason of which dereliction a large portion of the money has been lost to the people.

12 We arraign and condemn the Republican state treasurer for having conspired with John Bardsley, the Republican treasurer of Philadelphia, to secure to him the payment of $425,000 of the public school funds, long in advance of the usual time, and when Bardsley was already known to the state treasurer to be a defaulter for over half a million dollars, which sum thus improvidently paid to Bardsley, was by him embezzled, to the loss of Philadelphia city and the shame and scandal of the state.

13. We arraign and condemn the Republican state treasurer and the Republican auditor general for having conspired to pay John Bardsley, the Republican treasurer of Philadelphia city and county, on December 30, 1890, $150,000 out of the state treasury, ostensibly on account of Philadelphia country's share of the personal property tax; but actually before that tax had been paid into the state treasury, and when John Bardsley was already a defaulter and embezzler on account to the amount of $622,013,11.

A PARTY OF OFFICIAL CORRUPTION.

14. We arraign and condemn the Republican party of Pennsylvania for having fostered, encouraged, protected and continued a reckless system of official speculation with public moneys whereby state and city treasurers have enriched themselves, corrupted the public morals and robbed the taxpayers. The practice of using public funds for private gain or political advantage is to be condemned and should be completely and thoroughly eradicated.

15. We arraign and condemn the Republican state convention, recently assembled, for its condonation and defense of faihless Republican state officials guilty of these derelictions, some of whom sat in its councils, influenced its action and dictated and controlled its utterances.

16. We pledge the candidates this day nominated to make such investigations and give such information to the law department of the commonwealth as will enable it to bring to punishment those guilty of malfeasance in office.

17. We denounce the corrupt and shameless domination of Senator Matthew Quay in the politics of the state, and arraign and condemn the Republican party for its servile acquiesence in the leadership of a man who has utterly failed to defend himself from grave charges against his official conduct and political record

18. We heartily endorse the wise, statesmanlike and patriotic administration of Governor Pattison; we applaud and approve his fearless vetoes of partisan vicious and ill considered legislation; his recommendation of salutary laws; his rigorous investigation and wholesome correction of public abuses, and his determination to enforce the constitution, punish offenders and secure public reform.

SYMPATHY FOR THE WORKINGMEN.

19. We sympathise with the just demands of workingmen for all such legislation as will protect their interests, and for such speedy amendment to the constitution as will secure to them a free and secret ballot.

20. We oppose the repeal of the mercantile taxes, and insist that they shall be fairly and equitably laid, honestly collected, and that the money arising from them shall be paid into the state treasury, and not stolen by its agents We favor the repeal of such provisions of law as require advertisement of these taxes, and the incurring of cost of collection where there can be no recovery. We favor the abolition of the office of mercantile appraiser and the substitution of some certain, economical and expeditious method of assessing and collecting these taxes.

21. We approve all legislation looking to an honest registry of voters to the end that every qualified voter may be secured the exercise of his franchise and that the list may be purged of all names not rightly thereon.

22. We believe that the right of free, honest and secret ballot is the right preservative of all political rights. We approve the largest measure of ballot reform and believe the whole advantages of the Australian ballot system should be secured to the electors of Pennsylvania. The ballot bill enacted at the last general assembly was a step in the right direction, but it needs to be supplemented by measures to secure reform in registration. To this end and for these purposes only we favor the assembling of a constitutional convention.

Worth Five Dollars.

a bottle, but sold for only one dollar, and guaranteed to benefit or cure, or money refunded—the genuine Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Fraudelent imitations of this medicine are sometimes offered and sold at 60 to 70 cents.

To protect the public from such imposition, the genuine is now sold only through druggists, regularly authorized as agents, and at the uniform and long-established price of $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.10.

But each bottle of the genuine Golden Medical Discovery carries with it something that makes it the cheapest bloodpurifier and liver-invigorator that you can buy. It's the printed guarantee of its makers that, if it fails to benefit or cure you, they'll return the money. You pay only for the good you get, with this and with all of Dr. Pierce's medicines. You pay the one fixed price—but if there's no help, there's no pay. It's "value received, or your money back." That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. With an ordinary medicine, it can't be done.

Dealers not authorized to sell the genuine medicine, are likely to offer spurious imitations, dilutions, and substitutes, at lower prices. Beware of them.

Luxurious Traveling

THE PULLMAN PALACE CAR COMPANY'S LATEST PRODUCTION FOR THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

With the marvelous improvements of late days in interior architecture and elaborate finish of Pullman cars it requires the exceptional to attract more than passing notice and the extraordinary to draw forth comment. Some months ago the Pennsylvania Railroad Company ordered from the Pullman works, for the equipment for the New York and Washington and Congressional Limited express trains, the very best representative work the Pullman Company was capable of creating regardless of expense, and the result is now seen in the new cars running this last week on these two magnificent solid vestibule trains, which connect in a few hours the nation's metropolis with her seat of government. What is surely of much more importance than the handsome exterior finish of these cars, over which even experienced travelers are enthusiastic, is the improved and heavy trucks on which the palaces are built. They have been, with the wheels and axles, subjected to the very highest test, even beyond the standard, which on the Pennsylvania Railroad is highest known, and at the end of their active journey came to a halt as cool almost as at the start. The designer here has also made a marked advance, and one promoting untold comfort, by arranging the connection of car body and truck so as to reduce to a minimum the swaying motion ordinarily felt when under full speed. The entire trains are connected by vestibules, fitted for steam heat and equipped with improved air-brake appliances, which practically stop the cars almost in their own length. The former equipment of these trains seemed impossible to be improved upon, yet their perfection of design and finish demonstrates the capacities of this modern age for wonderful and radical changes. The exterior appearance, aside from the drawing-room angled bay-windows, is identical with the regulation Pullman in color and design, and it is not until advancing through the vestibule that the revelation of what Americans have grown to expect in taking their few hundred miles jaunts is made manifest, as illustrated by those luxuriously finished palaces on wheels. The upholstery of the comfortable, revolving easy chairs and sofas, affording seating accommodations for thirty-four persons in each car, is of a white, imported mohair cloth, worked with figured silk embossing. The flooring is covered with a rich, heavy Turkish carpeting, whose color blends harmoniously with the furnishings, even to the adjustable ottoman, ready for foot service at the front of each chair. Upon entering the aisle-way it is noticeably wider than in other Pullman cars, and the wood-work is polished ash, stained. A perfect effect is produced in the hand-carved entrances from the drawing-rooms into the main car body, as it arches to a centre in a miniature dome, where scroll-work, leaded glass, brass designs and heavy plate mirrors lend an exceptionally rich finish. At the windows hang a dual set of curtains, one a light cream to neutralize the light and shade the eyes, and back a heavy set of some rich brown stuff, embroidered and tasseled; The ceilings are hand-decorations, not elaborate nor overworked, but very artistic, while every cornice or where one might expect the sharp edge is some dainty bit of relief wood-carving. The receptacle racks as well as the chandelier lamps are made of oxidized silver, the latter being of very unique pattern and shedding the softest silvery light on the interior decorations.

The drawing-rooms are perhaps the latest innovation in car constuction; one is closed to the top of the ceiling, above the average standing height, with heavy plate-glass, beveled and paneled, while the other is open, and its occupants screened from the passengers in the body of the car by which sliding curtains suspended on brass rods, running possibly two feet higher than the frame wood-work; and supported at the carved corners by thin newel posts of curiously twisted brass.

These compartments, accommodate six each, have a direct connection by door with the lavatory and toilet rooms, two spacious apartments well ventilated and lighted. The lavatory basin is made of heavy nickel, and every appointment in the way of necessary toilet articles is in its respective rack of twisted brass.

The wood-work above each chair in the main car is carved with laurel wreaths, suspended by the gracefully flowing strings, all most exquisitely carved by hand.

The entire arrangement suggests more a salon of Louis XIV.'s time than a regular passenger express train of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

These cars, added to the deservedly popular dining car service of the Washington Limited and Congressional Limited Express trains, render these trains absolutely peerless for day use.

The Housekeeper's Friend.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and such a friend you will always find in Sulphur Bitters? They cured me of dyspepsia, when I had given up life in despair and was almost at death's door. They are a true friend of the sick.—Mrs. R. Crague, Hartford, Connecticut.

A CHILD'S LAUGHTER.

All the bells of heaven may ring,
All the birds of heaven may sing,
All the wells of earth may spring,
All the winds of earth may bring
  All sweet sounds together;
Sweeter far than all things heard,
Hand of harper, tone of bird,
Sound of woods at sundawn stirred,
Welling water's winsome word,
  Wind in warm wan weather.

One thing yet there is that none
Hearing ere its chime be done
Knows not well the sweetest one
Heard of man beneath the sun,
  Hoped in heaven hereafter;
Soft and strong and loud and light,
Very sound of very light
Heard from the morning's rosiest height,
When the soul of all delight
  Fills a child's clear laughter.

Golden bells of welcome rolled
Never forth such notes, nor told
Hours so blithe in tones so bold
As the radiant mouth of gold
  Here that rings forth heaven.
If the golden-crested wren
Were a nightingale—why, then
Something seen and heard of men
Might be half as sweet as when Laughs a child of seven.

—A. G. Swinburne.

Ammonia as a Motive Power.

A most successful test was made in this city of the use of ammonia as a motive power to displace steam. The test was the first that has ever been made on a marine engine, and the trial was most satisfactory. An ammonia engine plant has been fitted out on the tug E.W. Hartley, which made a trip up and down the river, subjecting the new scheme to a practical test. It is known as the Campbell ammonia engine system, and its workings are novel and interesting, not only to the mechanical and scientific circles, but also to the laymen of the industrial world.

Any ordinary engine can be converted into a Campbell ammonia engine simply by the addition of a "generator," which is much like a boiler. Steam is used simply for the purposes of heating the aqua ammonia in the generator. The heated ammonia expels a gas, leaving a weak solution of ammonia in the bottom of this boiler like affair. When, by raising the temperature of the ammonia, sufficient power is generated the throttle valve is opened and the gas passes into the cylinder of the engine and propels the piston rod in every way the same as steam. It is here exhausted the same as steam, but at this point the gas is cooled and conducted back to the generator. Before it reaches the latter vessel it is carried by a "spray coil" to a point where the gas comes in contact with the ammonia solution which has been rejected from the generator, and here the solution is recharged by absorption and by the natural affinity existing between water and ammonia.

By this means the same body of ammonia is used constantly, exhausting itself only to be recharged with new life and to be returned to the generator. The same is true of the water used. The steam in the generator imparts its heat to the ammonia and is thereby condensed and carried back to the boiler to be used again. In the ammonia engine there is absolutely no waste. On the other hand there is a saving of coal, as the engine can be operated on one-half the amount of fuel. On the Hartley only one of the two furnaces was used, and there was all the speed and pressure that could be desired.—Philadelphia Record.

At the Bottom of the Sea.

The city authorities of Rovigno, on the peninsula of Istria, in the Adriatic Sea, have discovered a little south of the peninsula the ruins of a large town at the bottom of the sea. It has been observed for some years that fishermen's nets were sometimes entangled in what appeared to be masses of masonry, of which fragments were brought up from the sea bed. A year or two ago a diver declared that he had seen walls and streets below the water.

The city authorities decided to investigate. They sent down a diver who, at the depth of 85 feet, found himself surrounded on the bottom of the sea by ruined walls. He says he knows they were the work of man. He is a builder by trade, and he recognized the layers of mortar.

Continuing his explorations, he traced the line of the walls and was able to distinguish how the streets were laid out. He did not see any doors or window openings, for they were hidden by the masses of seawead and incrustations. He traced the masonry for a distance of 100 feet, where he had to stop, as his diving cord did not permit him to go farther. He had proved beyond a doubt that he had found the ruins of a once inhabited town, which, through some catastrophe, had been sunk to the bottom of the sea. Some people think they identify this lost town with the island mentioned by Pliny the Elder, under the name of Cissa, near Istria. This island can not be found now, and it is thought that the submerged town may have been a settlement on the island that so mysteriously disappeared. The peninsula of Istria is a neck of land, jutting into the Adriatic on the east, above Croatia, and belonging to Austria.

A Tree Village.

One of the curious features of some of the islands of the Pacific is the tree village. One of these villages on Isabel Island is built on the summit of a rocky mountain, rising almost perpendicularly to the height of 800 feet. The trunks of the trees, in the branches of which the natives have erected their houses, are perfectly straight and their surfaces smooth, while the distance from the ground to the first branches varies from 50 to 150 feet. One of these novel abodes is at a height of 80 feet above the ground, while the home of a neighboring one is 40 feet higher. Each house is reached by a ladder made of some creeping vine, which is suspended from one of the door posts, and can be drawn up when it is desired. Each house is large enough to contain 10 or 12 persons, together with ammunition for a long siege. Such lofty habitations are only occupied in time of war, at night, or when danger is expected. At other times the more convenient and accessible huts on the ground are preferred.

POULTRY NOTES.

No. 31.

Good breed, care and attention, success.

The above is true of all kinds of animals, and if true of horses, cows, hogs, etc., why not of poultry.

One man in New York sold a breeding pen of Plymouth Rocks, for nearly one hundred and fifty dollars; so much for good breed.

The Farmer's Review is giving a prize contest, consisting of the following points:

1.—Name the best general purpose fowl for the farmer.

2.—Are thoroughbred fowls more desirable for the farmer than crosses?

3.—Are you in favor of comparison, judging, or scoring?

4.—Should the standard be illustrated?

5.—What one thing is the most indispensable in the interior arrangement of the poultry house?

6.—What in a single word, is the secret of success in poultry raising?

7.—Should poultry Journals publish the show awards in full and with scoring?

8.—Where should the A. P. A. meet this winter?

After the Contest is over I will report the answers to the above questions as it will be of interest to the farmers.

W. B. German.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

Arrest of a Prominent Banker.

A MYSTERIOUS PRISONER TAKEN TO HEADQUARTERS.

Great excitement was caused yesterday by the report of the arrest of a leading financier. At headquarters it was admitted that there had been an arrest, but the detectives refused to give any further information beyond saying that they had been working on the case for weeks, and were satisfied that the right party had been captured. The amount involved is said to be over four million dollars. They further informed the reporter that the full particulars of this startling affair were given in "Old Sleuth, the Detective," issued to-day as No. 2 of The Calumet Series. Any newsdealer will gladly show you a copy.

The Berks County Fair.

Among successful fairs in Pennsylvania is that held at Reading by the Berks County Agricultural Society. Every man, woman and child in the county takes an interest in the fair, which is made the great holiday occasion of the year, and there is usually a fine display in every department. Visitors are promised a grand entertainment this year. The immense fruit crop in the county will bring out the choicest products of the orchard and garden. Many new attractions have been provided, including Roman, flat and hurdle races and a regular circus performance daily on the track. Balloon and parachute leaps will take place every afternoon. The grounds are splendidly equipped with buildings, race-course, grand stand and all necessary adjuncts, including a large and well-conducted hotel. Passenger trains arrive at main entrance every few minutes. The dates are September 15, 16, 17 and 18.

Is He Your Friend?

Is the family doctor your friend? How many unnecessary visits does he make you? How many days does he keep you sick that you ought to be at your work, and so doing how many hard-earned dollars does he extort from you. Would it not be better for you to place your trust in Sulphur Bitters? Try them, they will be a true friend. Saving you a long sickness and a large bill, which you have hitherto paid to some avaricious doctor.—Editor State Journal.

A Hard Corner.

The age of 30 is a hard corner for a woman to turn, and 35 is still harder. She feels that she is fast leaving her youth behind her. But there is no reason why a woman should be faded and passe at 35, or even at 45. The chief cause of early fading of American women is found in the fact that many of them suffer from some form of female weakness or disease which robs the face of its bloom, draws dark circles about the eyes, brings early wrinkles and sallowness, and stamps the face and figure with signs of ill-health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all these troubles, will bring back the lost bloom, and remove the pains and ailments which make women grow old before their time. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded.

The annual exhibition of the Sullivan County Agricultural Society will be held at Forksville, October 1, 2, 3 and 4. New grounds have been bought, new buildings erected, a fine driving track laid out, and every effort will be put forth to make this the best fair ever held in Sullivan county.

The Best Advertising.

The most efficient advertising in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that which comes from the medicine itself. That is, those who are cured by it, speak to friends suffering similarly, who in turn derive benefit and urge others to try this successful medicine. Thus the circle of its popularity is rapidly widening from this cause alone, and more and more are becoming enthusiastic in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla as it actually demonstrates its absolute merit. All that is asked for Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it be given a fair trial. If you need a good blood-purifier, or building up medicine, try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Columbian.

ESTABLISHED 1806.

The Columbia Democrat,

ESTABLISHED 1827. CONSOLIDATED 1869.

—PUBLISHED BY—

ELWELL & BITTENBENDER

EVERY FRIDAY MORNING

At Bloomsburg, the County seat of Columbia County, Pennsylvania.

SUBSCRIPTION—$1.00 a year, in advance, $1.50 if not paid in advance.

All communications should be addressed to THE COLUMBIAN, Bloomsburg, Pa.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1891.

The following comment of the Philadelphia Record, the recognized organ of Governor Pattison, clearly indicates what the Governor's views are on the subject of the proposed constitutional convention. The Record thus speaks of the Democratic platform adopted by the state convention:

"There was no presidential foolery. The only weak spot in the platform is the halting and hesitating allusion to the proposed constitutional convention No favor should have been extended to that tricky device of the opponents of ballot reform. But this blemish upon an otherwise admirable declaration is of small account. The people will take very good care in November that the excellent selection of delegates-at-large to this problematical body shall have no occasion to attend its sittings. We are confident it will never sit."

MR. WRIGHT'S SPEECH.

In accepting the Democratic nomination for Auditor General Robert E. Wright, made the following speech before the convention:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND GENTLEMEN OF THE CONVENTION—I thank you for the evidence you have given of your belief that I am worthy to represent the people for whom you speak in the contest about to open. I appreciate the grave responsibility your nomination will involve and the important interests that are staked on the outcome of your deliberations and beg to assure you that if I hesitated in indicating that I would be your candidate, if so you wished, I was influenced only by a desire to do that which would most surely advance the interests committed to your care. I now accept it with all the responsibilities an acceptance may imply. I know that it involves something more than a mere party nomination, honorable though that might be. For while in your assembled capacity as a convention you represent one of the great politlcal organizations of the State and are convened to pledge the power of your party to the work so admirably outlined in your platform, yet the work itself extends far beyond the lines of ordinary political or party inspirations.

You have met under the presence of startling conditions in public affairs. It has come to pass that by reason of most deplorable circumstances, the people of Pennsylvania are not permitted to contest this election on lines of national questions, nor yet upon those matters of State concern that should ordinarily engage the best attention of thoughtful citizens.

THE ISSUES OF THE HOUR.

We are not at liberty with the people of other States to form our lines of discussion solely upon the economic and financial problems of the country, nor in calm judgment to legislate within the State for the welfare of the people, for the relief of the overburdened classes nor for the developement of Pennsylvania's interests. All these considerations for the time being must be laid aside because there are thrust upon us the overshadowing problems born of dishonest corrupt government. Never in the history of the country was there exhibited an administration of affairs so universally corrupt as that developed in Pennsylvania within the last six months.

The city of Philadelphia robbed of a million dollars, the State of a million more, the schools of half as much, the taxpayer robbed in his assessment, and exemptions, the State robbed of a large percentage of the small balance remaining. Through all the ramifications of the process of tax collection from the assessor to the final depository, the heavy hand of reckless theft is felt as the rising tide of corruption sweeps up toward the doors of your capitol Not isolated cases of single dishonest officials, not mere disconnected instances of theft make up the record of public dishonor, but well planned, systematic, continuous, daily robbery pervading entire departments, embracing almost every official who touches the public funds.

FAR-REACHING CORRUPTION.

Worse than all, not content with robbing individual citizens and aggregated society, even the newspapers of this boss-ridden party are compelled to pay tribute to organized plunder, and become the vehicle of the transfer of the people's money from the public treasury to the pockets of party heelers. Meeting, therefore, as the convention does, in the presence of this overshadowing dishonor, it is but right that for the time being it should turn aside from the discussion of current political topics to the more important and pressing questions of clean, honest government. We are confronted by the fact that one whole administration of government in Pennsylvania and her great cities has passed under the control of a corrupt political combination that permits none to aspire to public place, except as they may consent to become participants in these wrongs, or to permit them without objection. What do they offer? The issue has now passed far beyond the question of the personal respectability of candidates presented and supported by the confederation of now reconciled bosses.

More than once the people of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania in their movements toward reform have been content to demand no more than respectable nominations from these men.

But again and again disappointment and dishonor have followed the concession. The harvest evolved from the seed of respectable ring nominations has always been disastrous. In my judgment there can be no reform in Pennsylvania until the machine that creates and maintains this system of organized robbery is torn up root and branch and destroyed.

A VERY SIMPLE PLATFORM.

Therefore it has come to pass that your platform is a very simple one. It emphasizes the old truths of the ten commandments. The injunction "Thou shalt not steal" is its cardinal plank. On that plank the impending battle must be fought, and in conclusion we must permit no confusion of the issues when the honor of Pennsylvania is at stake. The discussion of the tariff duties ceased with us when the treasury of Philadelphia was looted. The silver question lost its interest as the waves from the flood tide of corruption reached the steps of your State capitol, and the only reciprocity the people of Pennsylvania should hear of now is that which was exemplified when the doors of the Eastern penitentiary closed upon the disappearing form of Bardsley.

Who They are.

CAREER OF THE TWO CANDIDATES.

Robert E. Wright is a son of the late Robert E. Wright, who was twice postmaster of Allentown, and a lawyer of large practice and wide reputation. He is a native of Allentown and is forty-five years old. When a young man Mr. Wright entered the office of a civil engineer, receiving a thorough training in that profession. He then went to Schuylkill county where he held for some time a responsible position in the service of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company under Chief Engineer Charles E. Byers. Subsequently he entered upon the study of the law, and was admitted to the bar in 1868. He was associated with his father in practice until his death. In 1886 he was chosen president of the Allentown national bank, of which he had previously been the attorney. In the state convention of 1886 Mr. Wright's name was presented for the gubernatorial nomination and he received seventeen votes. His name was again presented for the first place on the ticket at the state convention last year, but he received only eleven votes, Pattison being nominated on the first ballot. He was then urged for the second place on the ticket, and received 157 votes for lieutenant governor to 191 for Chauncy F. Black and three for Senator Hannibal K. Sloan. Mr. Wright is Secretary of the World's fair commission. He is an eloquent and logical speaker and has frequently been heard on the stump in this state.

A. L. Tilden, of Erie, was born in Garretsville, Portage county, Ohio, August 21, 1834. He attended the public schools of his native town and the Nelson Academy. He started in business for himself at the early age of eighteen as a lumberman in the pine regions of Michigan. In 1853 Mr. Tilden removed to Erie county and engaged in the lumber business until 1857, when he lost all he had accumulated by the panic of that year. He then went into the oil trade, and from that into the employ of the Atlantic and Great Western railroad as general agent, in which position he continued until 1866, when he purchased a farm on the flats of French creek, in Le Beouff township, Erie county, where he has made his home ever since. He has taken a prominent part in politics, being a frequent delegate to Democratic county and state conventions. He was elected county commissioner in 1878 and re-elected in 1881. Mr Tilden is a leader in the State Grange and Farmer's Alliance. Last year he was selected as the alliance's choice for congress and was endorsed by the Democratic conference of the Twenty-sixth district, embracing Erie and Crawford counties, but he was defeated by Matthew Griswold, the Republican candidate, by 888 plurality. Two years before the district had been carried by the Republican candidate by over 3,000 plurality. Mr. Tilden is at present deputy secretary of the commonwealth.

DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

1416 South Penn Square, Philadelphia. Campaign, 1891.

The last General Assembly of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania, fixed upon Pittsburgh as the place of meeting for the next General Assembly and at a meeting of the Executive Committee, held at Harrisburg, August 20th, the last Wednesday of September, being the 30th, was fixed as the time.

These annual assemblies grow in numbers with the passage of every year and their usefulness as plainly increases in proportion. The great meeting at Reading last year inaugurated the campaign which elected Governor Pattison. It is expected that the assembly of this year will be equally important in its results.

The place of the Democratic Societies in the regular party organization of the state is determined and the value of this gigantic auxiliary force is becoming more and more apparent. While they are regularly incorporated with the organization, they perform a function and exercise an influence which have only recently been felt in American politics. The National Democratic Committee and the Democratic State Committee, and all the authorities of the party, advise us that the contests of the immediate future are to be mainly between the club organizations of the two great political parties. Chairman Brice and Chairman Kerr unite with the officials of the National Association of Democratic Clubs and the Democratic Society of this state in urging the formation of Democratic Societies in every political subdivision of the Commonwealth.

All Societies should endeavor to have the names of their deputies to the General Assembly at Pittsburg, in the hands of Secretary John D Worman, United States Hotel, Harrisburg, at least a week before the time of meeting, although the names will be received up to the day thereof.

The Societies should forward to the Secretary a full list of officers and members as soon as organized, and also of the deputies to the general Assembly.

Each Society is entitled to one member of General Committee and the deputies should be prepared to hand in the name of the member upon assembling at Pittsburgh.

Each Society is entitled to one deputy for every twenty-five members, in good standing, as certified by the Secretary.

The primary Democratic Society becomes a member of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania, entitled to representation in the General Assembly and in Committees, by simply reporting its organization to the Secretary with officers and membership, and directing the name to be enrolled. No fees are exacted. Ex-Lieutenant Governor Chauncey F. Black is President of the Democratic Society of Pennsylvania.

It is a significant fact that the subject of a constitutional convention was not mentioned in the Democratic state convention by any of the speakers. All efforts made by a few persons to secure an unqualified endorsement of the constitutional convention were futile, and the only allusion to it is in the last three lines of the last section of the platform, which gives it an endorsement only to a limited extent.

The 19th section of the platform favors an amendment to the constitution that will secure a free and secret ballot.

The end of woman's peculiar troubles and ailments comes with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures them. For all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses that afflict womankind, it's a certain remedy. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial and bracing nervine—purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless.

In the cure of periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and all "female complaints" and irregularities, "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't give satisfaction in every case, you have your money back.

You pay only for the good you get. Can you ask more?

The easiest way is the best. Regulate the liver, stomach, and bowels with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cleanse and renovate the system—thoroughly and naturally. Sick Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, and Bilious Attacks, are prevented, relieved, and cured.

A Rich Harvest From the Holy Coat.

The sale of rosaries and other religious objects in Treves has been immense. One Cologne firm has sold more than $50,000 worth of such articles, while the sales of the agency of a Paris firm amount to more than $35,000. It is estimated by the authorities of Treves that the citizens will make a total extra income of about $500,000 out of the pilgrimage. Among the visitors to see the "Holy Coat" are a man of 86 years, and a widow of 83, who saw the relic in 1810 and in 1844. Forty-five thousand is the number of pilgrims admitted into the Cathedral daily.

The universal satisfaction with which J. G. Wells' work as an optician is regarded in this and adjoining counties, speaks well for his ability.

If your eyes are failing, call on him and have them fitted correctly with spectacles. Special accommodations have been made for fair week. 6t.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering. I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. A. NOYES, 820 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. mar-6-1y

Many of the older residents of Bloomsburg will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs. Anna R. Drake, who died at the residence of her brother-in-law, Rev. C. C. Parker, at Lower Merion, Pa., aged seventy-five years. She was a daughter of John Barton, and the widow of Thomas W. Drake, M. D. She resided in Bloomsburg for many years, and many of the middle-aged people of this town went to school to her in their youth. She was a faithful member of the Episcopal church. She had numerous relatives in this community. Mrs. Drake's death occurred on Monday last and it was sudden and unexpected. The funeral took place from St. John's church, Lower Merion, on Thursday, and the remains were buried in Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Sallow and leaden-hued complexions soon give place to the loveliest pink-and-white, when the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla is persisted in, and cosmetics entirely abandoned. Nothing can counterfeit the rosy glow of perfect health, which blesses those who use this medicine.

To rise in the morning with a bad taste in the mouth and no appetite, indicates that the stomach needs strengthening. For this purpose, there is nothing better than an occasional dose of Ayer's Pills taken at bed time.

Artistic Advertising.

Undoubtedly the Ivory Soap people deserve credit for the best grade of illustrations now being used for advertising purposes. The series of full page drawings which have been appearing on the last page of the Century represent some of the most capable book and magazine artists in the country. The series must have cost no small figure. As yet the "way up" artist do not sign the work they do for advertisers, but I apprehend that it will not be long ere we shall see in the advertising columns such names as George Wharton Edwards, E. W. Kemble, etc. Such men as these bring to their work, besides mere mechanical skill, a trained imagination and artistic conception of things. These qualities, when used in connection with advertisements, command scarcely less interest than when used in the ordinary literary way.—Printer's Ink, Aug. 19, 1891.

The eyesight is the most valuable of our senses. A splendid opportunity to preserve and improve the sight is given during the fair, having your eyes properly fitted with glasses by Wells' and Sears, opticians, either at Mr. Wells' office or his optical exhibit on fair grounds. 6t.

All school books used at the Normal as well as at the Public schools kept at Mercer's Drug & Book store.

CANNOT SEE THRO' A SIEVE.

Sancho Panza said it is a blind man who cannot see through a sieve. They are blind, indeed, who fail to recognize impure blood as the origin of the ills that flesh is heir to. Health is not possible with impure blood. Cactus Blood Cure will positively neutralize and carry off all blood poisons, tone the system, strengthen the heart and restore health.

WRIGHT AND TILDEN.

Nominated for Auditor and Treasurer Respectively at Harrisburg.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—In the Democratic state convention, after the adoption of the platform and the appointment of the committee to select delegates at large to the constitutional convention, the nomination of candidate for auditor general and state treasurer was next begun.

Hon. Walter E. Ritter, of Lycoming, presented the name of Robert E. Wright, of Allentown. He said it gave him great pleasure to name the next auditor general of Pennsylvania. It was necessary, he said, to name candidates in accord with the platform just adopted; the office of auditor general has been in the hands of the Republican party for a score of years; the demand for a change and reform was overwhelming; than Mr. Wright there was no stancher Democrat in the state; no one can impeach his honesty, no one doubts his ability to carry the Democratic standard to victory. Loud applause and much enthusiasm greeted the mention of Mr. Wright's name.

R. E. WRIGHT.

The nomination was seconded by Frank Fitzsimmons, of Lackawanna, who promised a solid Democratic majority from every one of the northeastern counties.

George Tille, of Lancaster, nominated James G. McSparran, of Lancaster, who, he said, as a member of the state grange, would give strength to the ticket. D. C. Dewitt, of Bradford, seconded the nomination.

Wright and Tilden Nominated.

The nominations closed and balloting was begun. The vote resulted: Wright, 372; McSparran, 80; not voting, 9. Mr. Hill, who had nominated McSparran, moved that Mr. Wright's nomination be made unanimous, and the motion was carried amid much cheering.

Nominations for state treasurer were begun. R. H. Arbuckle, of Erie, named A. L. Tilden, of Erie. His speech was short and to the point. He said Mr. Tilden was a man of spotless reputation and a man on whom all interests could and would unite. J. N. Dunbar, of Crawford, seconded the nomination. Dr. John W. Riewalt, of Dauphin, named Charles W. Raymond, of Middletown, a man, he said, well fitted by reason of his ability as a financier to perform the duties of state treasurer. Hon. W. Rush Gillan, of Franklin county, seconded the nomination of Mr. Raymond.

A. L. TILDEN.

As before, there were only two candidates. The vote resulted: Tilden, 394; Raymond, 5; McSparran, 1; total, 450. The nomination of Tilden was made unanimous.

The Recognition of Chili.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of state telegraphed to Minister Egan on Sept. 4 that if a government acceptable to the people had been formed by the Congressional party he should recognize it. The department has received a telegram from Mr. Egan stating that a provisional government had been established on the 4th inst., with Jorge Montt as president, and was universally accepted by the people, and that he (Mr. Egan) was in very cordial communication with it.

To Prosecute the Appraisers.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—After a long consultation with City Treasurer Wright, District Attorney Graham advised that criminal proceedings be entered against the mercantile appraisers. Auditor General McCamant has suspended from office all the members of the board of mercantile appraisers. City Treasurer Wright concurred in the suspension, but said the order should be one of dismissal.

Editor McKean Retires.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Mr. William V. McKean, for more than twenty-six years managing editor of The Public Ledger, has retired. L. Clarke Davis succeeds him. Mr. McKeon will continue on the staff of The Ledger at full pay and will write occasional editorials. The announcement is made that Mr. George W. Childs will himself hereafter be editor-in-chief.

Heads of More and Raleigh.

When the wise and witty Sir Thomas More was beheaded, his head was stuck on a pole on London Bridge, where it was exposed for 14 days, much to the grief of his daughter, Margaret Roper, who resolved to secure it. "One day," says Aubrey, "as she was passing under the bridge, looking at her father's head, she exclaimed: 'That head has lain many a time in my lap; would to God it would fall into my lap as I pass under!' She had her wish, and it did fall into her lap." Probably she had bribed one of the keepers of the bridge to throw it over just as the boat approached, and the exclamation was intended to avert the suspicion of the boatmen. At all events, she got possession of it, and preserved it with great care in a leaden casket until her death, and it is now inclosed in a niche in the wall of her tomb in St. Dustan's church, Canterbury.

Sir Walter Raleigh's head, in a red bag, was carried to his wife, who caused it to be embalmed and kept it with her all her life, permitting favored friends, like Bishop Goodman, to see and even to kiss it. His son, Carew Raleigh, afterward preserved it with similar piety. It is supposed now to rest in the Church of West Horsley, Surrey.

Between Two Fires.

There is such a thing as being too obliging. When Commodore Billings and Mr. Main were on the river Kahima they had for attendant a young man from Kanoga, an island between Kamschatka and North America. One day Mr. Main asked him, "What will the savages do to me if I fall into their power?" "Sir," said the youth, "you will never fall into their power if I remain with you. I always carry a sharp knife, and if I see you pursued and unable to escape I will plunge my knife into your heart; then the savages can do nothing to you." This recalls the words of the French knight reported by Joinville: "Swear to me," said Queen Margaret, "that if the Saracens become masters of Damietta you will cut off my head before they can take me." "Willingly," returned the knight; "I had already thought of doing so if the contingency arrived."

Merit Measured By Success.

The wonderful popularity of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) is the natural result of the tests to which the public has put it. The merits of the medicine have remained the same, but the knowledge of the people with respect to its remarkable curative properties has increased until now there is a demand for it wherever the English language is spoken. S. S. S. was first offered as a specific for contagious blood poison. For that it was, and is, truly a specific for all forms of blood disease. Whole columns could be filled with testimonials to this effect.

A BATTLE OF GIANTS.

Western Union to Attack the Bell Telephone Company.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The World says the Western Union Telegraph company and the American Bell Telephone company are about to engage in a legal battle in which millions of dollars and the good name of a former United States judge are involved. By an agreement between the two corporations the telegraph company was to receive 20 per cent. of the receipts of the telephone company for certain concessions. In 1883 the Western Union discovered that certain receipts were not subjected to the 20 per cent. deduction and began an action for an accounting, involving $7,000,000 or $8,000,000.

The suit by the Western Union was begun in the United States Circuit court for the district of Massachusetts, and Judge Nelson appointed ex-Judge John Lowell as referee to hear the evidence. Judge Lowell made his report a few months ago. He decided that the Western Union is not entitled to the accounting asked for. Since that report was made the Western Union experts have searched the records of the Bell patents and the previous decisions of Judge Lowell in Bell telephone cases.

Now the company will move to reopen the case on the ground of newly discovered evidence. Should the motion be disallowed they will move to set aside Judge Lowell's report on the ground that a surprising number of his near relatives hold large amounts of American Bell Telephone stock, and largely increased their holdings while the decision was pending, and that Judge Lowell's father advanced $100,000 to the men who controlled the stock while the question of the value or worthlessness of the stock was pending before his son. The Western Union will make its first motion in the United States court in Boston some time this month.

Ex-Judge John Lowell is a cousin of the late James Russell Lowell, and has the best blue blood of Boston in his veins. He is very eminent in his profession, and has written two volumes on bankruptcy which have become standard authority.

What President Green Says.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Norvin Green, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, was asked for a statement in regard to the published report that the company would move to set aside an adverse report of Master in Chancery John Lowell in the suit against the Bell Telephone company for certain moneys claimed to be due the telegraph company. Dr. Green said that so far as he knew no such report had been made by ex-Judge Lowell. Should an adverse decision be filed, it would be fought by the Western Union with every weapon at its command. Beyond this he would say nothing.

IN ONLY TWENTY DAYS.

A Great Mail Record from Yokohama to England.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—A cablegram from Queenstown announces the arrival there of the steamship City of New York at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She was five days, twenty-two hours and fifty minutes crossing the Atlantic, equaling the fastest passage ever made from New York to Queenstown.

The City of New York had on board the famous record beating Japanese mail that the Empress of India, the Canadian Pacific Railroad company and the New York Central Railroad company brought from Yokohama to this city in fourteen days. The letters contained in these mail bags were read in England ten days before the usual time for the arrival of the Japanese mail.

Just twenty days from the time the letters left Yokohama they were in England.

For an Eight Hour Day.

NEWCASTLE, Sept. 9.—The proceedings of the Trades Union congress now in session here, and representing the interests of over 1,500,000 skilled and unskilled workmen of Great Britain, are attracting widespread attention.

A resolution in favor of an international eight hour law was carried by a vote of 232 to 163 amid great cheering.

The resolution declares that the British government should endeavor to bring about such a law in conjunction with all foreign governments, and demands that an international conference be convoked for the purpose.

Seligman on the Hirsch Fund.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Jesse Seligman, one of the trustees of the Baron Hirsch fund, said today: "Not one dollar of the Baron Hirsch fund has been used to pauperize labor or to bring over penniless emigrants. It is largely used to educate the children and to forward deserving Hebrews to various parts of the country. We have aided no paupers to come to this country. The money is used here for the assistance of those who have already arrived."

The Shenandoah Church War.

SHENANDOAH, Pa., Sept. 9.—The warring factions of the Greek Catholic church here have combined and resolved to oust Rev. Andrukoviozo, the parish priest. The latter has been suspended by the Archbishop of Lemberg, Galicia, but refuses to surrender until he is paid $1,900 which he claims he invested in the church property. He has enlisted a corps of special police, armed with Winchester rifles, and declares he will hold the church, come what may.

Five Firemen Burned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The immense five story storage warehouse of R. C. Layton, at 63 and 64 South street, was gutted by fire. Five firemen were burned, two of them seriously. At least fifty business houses had goods on storage in the building, and among the contents were chemicals, drugs, jute, teas, spices, shellac and a variety of general merchandise. The loss is estimated by R. C. Layton at $250,000.

Counterfeiters in Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 9.—The police of Newark captured three Italians who had passed many counterfeit coins last night. They were Michael Tiazzo, of 76 Mulberry street, and Dominick Patzello, of 97 Worth street, New York, and Frank Zerosso, who refused to give his residence. In Zerosso's possession were found seven counterfeit dollars.

Ex-Senator Platt's Wife Ill.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt, who is here to attend the Republican state convention, has received a cablegram informing him of the serious illness of his wife in Ostend, Belgium.

Hon. W. L. Scott Failing.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—A special dispatch to The Times from Newport says: Ex-Congressman William L. Scott is in a very critical condition. There is no doubt that Mr. Scott is failing rapidly.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—A general rehearsal of "Lohengrin" was held last night. It will probably be produced on Friday in honor of the czar.

CAPTIVE BALLOONS.

THE IMPORTANCE THEY MAY HAVE IN NAVAL WARFARE.

Interesting Experiments Made by the French Authorities — Observations That Were Made at a Height of 1,500 Feet.

A recent dispatch from London states that German military aeronauts have gone to the island of Heligoland to experiment with captive balloons, with a view to making use of them for naval purposes.

The idea of employing balloons for purposes of reconnoissance at sea originated with the French navy. The successful trials on land of captive balloons for army use led to the experiment being tried of utilizing them for service on board ship, and the French naval authorities instituted a series of practical experiments in 1888 with this object in view.

The first captive balloon with which experiments were made was of the ordinary spherical shape, and was made of Chinese pongee silk, covered with several coats of waterproof lacquer. This balloon was manufactured at Chalais Meudon, just outside of Paris, at the works of the Central Aeronautic establishment, where the war balloons are made. It was inflated with hydrogen gas and held captive by means of silk rope about 1,500 feet in length. In order to accustom the sailors to handle so large an object in the narrow and confined space offered by a ship, a platform was erected in the park of the manufacturing grounds of the shape and form of a ship's deck, with mast and rigging complete, and on this deck the men were exercised.

Everything being in readiness, the balloon and fittings were placed on board the gunnery ship L'Implacable and then inflated. The ascent from the ship at anchor on a calm day was successful in every way. The officers who went up reported that they had no difficulty in making out with the aid of telescopes not only the movements of all the vessels visible to their extended horizon, but that they could even discern their nationalities and the courses they were steering. All the information obtainable from their lofty station the officers transmitted to L'Implacable by means of a telephone, the wires of which were stopped up alongside of the rope that held the balloon captive.

The practicability of perfectly communicating between a captive balloon and a ship at anchor being thoroughly established, the French government proceeded to try the efficiency of such a mode of obtaining information from a ship under way. To accomplish this the balloon and apparatus were placed on board another ship, L'Indomptable, selected because she had very little rigging to interfere with the balloon on deck. The vessel then steamed out from the roads at a moderate rate of speed. The day was clear and calm. Long after the big black hull of the armored ship had sunk below the horizon of those watching within the harbor the balloon remained plainly visible, and to the observers in the balloon the harbor and the shipping movement remained in sight for a long time.

Further trials were continued on board the flag ship Formidable, and are thus described: "Several officers of the ship made ascents and ascertained that in clear weather all the details of the coast from Marseilles to the extreme point of the Islands of Hyeres were plainly visible, and that no building nor ship for 20 to 35 miles round could escape the notice of an observer in a balloon." These observers also reported that they could see vertically downward toward the bottom of the sea to a depth of nearly 100 feet, the water from their height appearing transparent.

In the exercises described the behavior of the balloon was all that could be desired. Going at the speed of 10 knots, with quite strong winds, the Formidable found no difficulty in towing the balloon with nearly 200 feet of line. To finally demonstrate this fact the balloon was made fast to a torpedo boat that towed it with perfect ease with 200 feet of ropo for two hours, in which time 21 miles were made.

This is as far as captive balloon experiments on board ship have been carried. There are many uses for balloons at sea if they can be cheaply and easily made and handled, and the Germans intend thoroughly to go into the matter.

A Pretty Fellow's Attire.

A century and a half ago the dress of a pretty fellow was a matter of constant study and care. Embroidered coats, laced waistcoats with gold worked button holes, and black velvet breeches, were his delight. For the last mentioned garments black velvet was for years the extremely fashionable material. In describing a beau a satirical writer of the time says, "In black velvet breeches let him put all his riches;" and another satire of the same time puts the unanswerable question, "Without black velvet breeches, what is man?" Fine Mechlin lace to adorn the shirt bosom and wrists, red heeled shoes with brilliant buckles, and gold clocked stockings rolled up over the knees, were also essential parts of the costume of the pretty fellows. Perukes with very long queues were the fashionable wear. They were heavily scented and powdered:

"Mix with powder pulvil,
And then let it moulder away on his shoulder."

Not only the peruke, but the whole attire was heavily scented. Musk, orange flower water, and civet shed their fragrance on the air. In the fob of the laced waistcoat was a gold watch. The macaroni of a latter day was accustomed to carry two watches, which seldom agreed—"one to tell him," as Walpole said, "what o'clock it was, and the other what it was not." A sword and a snuff box were necessary parts of our beau's equipment. A hilt adorned with rich filigree work, and an elegant sword knot with gold tassels, set off the weapon that no pretty fellow was ever man enough to draw.

There is a grate future for the nutmeg.—New Orleans Picayune.

DEADLIER THAN DEATH VALLEY.

A California Pool That Gives Off a Gas Fatal to All Life.

"Talk about Death Valley," said Gavin McNab to a San Francisco Chronicle reporter, "I know a spot in this State where no living thing can exist five seconds, and the place is within 30 feet of a traveled country road."

Tell us about it," said the gentlemen clustered around the speaker.

"Well," said Mr. McNab, "I will, but if I did not know there was a superabundance of proof concerning the story I am about to relate to you I would hesitate to tell it. Along the foot of the Mendocino Mountains, in the county by that name, runs a much traveled road, which leads from the town of Hopeland to Ukiah. The road is on a bench, or shelf, above a valley created by the Russian River, which, like nearly all California streams, is constantly changing its channel, and hence it is sometimes within a hundred yards of the road at the nearest point and again a half mile away. When the annual overflows occur it spreads over the whole valley, and is a mile or more wide. I mention this in order that you may understand the nature of the valley. It is a dry river bed, all sand and gravel, with here and there a bunch of scrubby willows.

"In a clump of these stunted trees, at a point about three miles from Hopeland and about 30 feet from the road I have mentioned, there bubbles a spring of the clearest sparkling water you ever saw. The only thing peculiarly noticeable about the spring from a distance is the loud hissing sound it makes as it gushes up out of the gravelly soil. It sounds more like boiling water, with occasional jets of steam escaping, than it does like the ordinary purling of a stream.

"Approach it and you will be startled to see lying around the spring the skeletons of hundreds of birds, scores of small animals, such as coons, foxes, and the like, and nearly always there will be a body or two of birds or animals in a more or less advanced state of decomposition near the edge of the spring. If a man is wise he will be content with an inspection of the unattractive spot from a distance, more especially if there happens to be the carcass of a steer lying beside it with the nose an inch or two from the water. The fact is, gentlemen, that there rises constantly from the spring a gas so noxious and so deadly that one whiff of it is sufficient to extinguish life.

"The terrible character of the spring," continued Mr. McNab, "is well known to all who reside in the neighborhood, and they tell some horrible stories concerning it. One day the little 6 year old daughter of a farmer living near the spring wandered away from home. Her absence was not noticed for an hour or two, and then the parents went in search of their child. They found her lying dead beside the spring with a little dead bird clutched in her hand. She had evidently seen the bird lying beside the spring, and, being attracted by the bright colors of its plumage, had tried to pick it up, and in so doing had inhaled the gas rising from the water and died with the bird.

"Another time," said the narrator of this strange story, "a squaw who was supposed to be recovering from a spree wandered down by the spring. She probably started to the river to get a drink, when she discovered the spring and knelt beside it, dying in that position. The strangest thing about it is that, well known as is the deadly character of the spring, there is absolutely no warning posted, no fence around it, nor protection against it of any kind other than a few limbs of trees and bushes thrown over the place by farmers to keep their stock away from it, and the last time I saw the place even the brush had been scattered until the spring was uncovered. A venturesome man once held his breath and nostrils and leaned over the spring to hear the noise it made, which he described as something terrible.

"The water is thought to be comparatively wholesome, but nothing is known positively about it, as it has never been analyzed. There can be no doubt, however, that the spring is certain and instant death to every living thing that approaches it."

The Bride Must Be Fat.

A Tunison girl has no chance of marriage unless she tips the scales at 200 pounds, and to that end she commences to fatten when she is 15 years old. She takes aperients and eats a great deal of sweet stuff and leads a sedentary life to hasten the process. Up to 15 she is very handsome, but at 20 what an immense unwieldy mass of fat she becomes.

She waddles or undulates along the street. Her costume is very picturesque, especially if she be of the richer class. They are clothed in fine silks of resplendent hues of bright yellow or green, and wear a sort of conical shaped head dress, from which depends a loose white drapery. Turkish trousers and dainty slippers, the heel of which barely reaches the middle of the foot, complete the costume.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Pineapple Cure for Diphtheria.

One of my children was down with diphtheria and was in a critical condition. An old man who heard of the case asked if we had tried pineapple juice. We tried it, and the child got well. I have known it tried in hundreds of cases. I have told my friends about it whenever I heard of a case and never knew it to fail. You get a ripe pineapple, squeeze out the juice, and let the patient swallow it. The juice is of so corrosive a nature that it will cut out diptheritic mucus, and if you will take the fruit before it is ripe and give the juice to a person whose throat is well it makes the mucous membrane of his throat sore.—Chicago Tribune.

The largest vessel on record in the old times was one built by Ptolemy Philopater, king of Egypt. She is said to have been 490 feet long, 56 feet broad, 72 feet high from the keel to the top of the prow, and 80 feet to the top of the poop. She had four helms of 60 feet, and her largest oars were 56 feet long. She had 4,000 rowers.

How Labor Day Was Celebrated in Various Cities.

TWO BIG PARADES IN NEW YORK.

The Central Labor Union and Central Labor Federation Each Turned Out an Army of Men—Origin of the Day—It May Become a National Holiday.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was celebrated and is still being celebrated in this city today in elaborate style. One parade would be considered quite a demonstration here, but on account of local strife and dissensions there were two parades this morning. Up to last year the trade and labor unions of this city held a united parade. Discord in the ranks of the Central Labor union between the socialists and the Knights of Labor and some of the open trades unions grew to such an extent that the socialists withdrew and formed the Central Labor federation. All efforts to harmonize the trouble failed and 1890 witnessed two labor parades in this city.

The same conditions still exist and therefore two parades. Many old labor leaders regret this, but there seems to be no remedy for it, at least for the present. Both the Central Labor union and the Central Labor Federation eclipsed all previous efforts and both made fine displays. Each organization claims that it had at least 25,000 men in line.

The Origin of the Day.

The holiday, which is now generally celebrated throughout the United States, originated in the ranks of the Central Labor union. To George K. Lloyd, of the Tin and Sheet Iron Workers' union, and to P. J. McGuire, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, must be given the credit of bringing the matter before the unions for adoption. The general assembly of the Knights of Labor was held in this city on the first Tuesday in 1882, and the first parade and picnic took place on that day.

It was reviewed by General Master Workman Powderly and others. In 1883 a parade was held on Sept. 5, and in 1884 a committee was appointed to make arrangements for a parade. George K. Lloyd was a member of this committee, and it was he who introduced a resolution at a meeting of the Central Labor union declaring that the first Monday in September be observed each year as Labor Day and requesting all labor unions to observe that day.

To Make It a National Holiday.

The resolution went through with a cheer, and Boston, Cincinnati, Buffalo and Baltimore celebrated Labor Day in 1884 for the first time. State Senator Rielly introduced a bill in the senate in 1885 making the first Monday in September a legal holiday. It was amended so as to read the first Monday in May, passed both houses and was signed by the governor. This did not please the unions, so in 1886 the act was changed to make the holiday the first Monday in September.

Other states followed the lead of New York, and now the first Monday in September is a legal holiday in a number of states, and the next move will be to have it made a national holiday.

Powderly in New Jersey.

WASHINGTON, N. J., Sept. 7.—T. V. Powderly, master workman, and Secretary John W. Hayes, of the Knights of Labor, are booked to speak here today at the Labor Day exercises. Mr. Powderly was asked to speak in several hundred places.

Hartford Toilers March.

HARTFORD, Sept. 7.—The sons of toil of Hartford were out in full force to celebrate Labor Day. The Central Labor union held a big parade and business in the factories and shops was generally suspended.

The Day at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 7.—In Syracuse the Central Trades and Labor assembly had a parade with Philip Miller as grand marshal. After the parade there was a festival at Kirkwood park.

Governor Hill at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—The presence of Governor Hill here gave an unusual interest to Labor Day in this city. He spoke under the auspices of the Buffalo Central Labor union at Germania park.

Bridgeport's First Celebration.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 7.—Bridgeport observed the day for the first time with a parade. Simon Reynolds was marshal. After the parade came a festival at Seaside park.

Labor Day Was Observed at Elizabeth.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 7.—The trades unions of this city paraded 2,000 strong under the marshalship of Cornelius J. Dailey, of the Carpenters' union.

A Big Time at Trenton.

TRENTON, Sept. 7.—In Trenton the union potters are having a Labor Day jubilee at Hill grove. All the labor organizations in Mercer county are represented.

Newark Socialists Parade.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 7.—The socialists of Newark celebrated Labor Day by a big parade this morning. A dance is being held at Union park this afternoon.

Gompers at Portland.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 7.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was the speaker here today at the Labor Day celebration.

New Haven Men at Savin Rock.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 7.—The New Haven Trades Council celebrated Labor Day by holding a festival at Savin Rock.

Dr. De Leon Speaks.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept 7.—Dr. Daniel De Leon, Labor candidate for governor, was Labor Day orator here.

Treasurer Kraft's Shortage.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 8.—Gottlieb Kraft, treasurer of the borough of Sharpsburg, this county, confessed judgment today to W. P. Potter, borough solicitor, for $8,000. The extent of Kraft's indebtedness is not known, but he admits a deficiency in his borough accounts of from $10,000 to $12,000. He is under bonds to the borough in the sum of $20,000.

Durham, Minister to Hayti.

CAPE MAY POINT, Sept. 5.—The president has appointed John S. Durham minister resident and consul general at Hayti. Mr. Durham is now consul at St. Domingo. He is a colored man of education and general capacity. It was necessary to have some one appointed at once in view of the present state of affairs in the black republic.

Items Which Are of Particular Interest to Pennsylvanians.

IN THIS AND NEARBY COUNTIES.

Brief Mention of Matters Which Everybody Should Know About—A Week's Accidents and Crimes Accurately and Concisely Chronicled.

LANCASTER, Sept. 2.—John J. Pierson, of Pittsburg, has been arrested here charged by Andrew J. Cox, of Philadelphia, with the embezzlement of a large sum of money. He was given into the custody of detectives.

Murderous Fight for a Woman.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—Austin Reed was killed on a dancing platform, at Ross Cove, by being shot near the heart by Elmer Malone. They fought over a woman with whom Reed was dancing, and who Malone claimed as a partner. Joseph Farbacher, who took Reed's part, was dangerously stabbed in the back.

The Circle Runs to Suicide.

BRADFORD, Sept. 3. — Quite a suicide mania has taken possession of the aged members of a local agnostic circle here, which was founded by the late Dr. Stuart, who himself led the way by taking his life. Since then three other members of the circle have tried to kill themselves, and two have succeeded. The last case occurred yesterday, when Elias Heasley, aged sixty-six, took rough on rats and died from its effects. He had pondered upon the life and death theory of Dr. Stuart until he decided to end his life in harmony with his friend's theory and practice.

Knocked the Engineer's Head Off.

BETHLEHEM, Sept. 3. — Richard Nash, of Philadelphia, engineer on the fast Reading express, while on the lookout, was struck by some obstruction, near Oreville station, and his head was severed from the body. The body hung out of the cab window some minutes before the fireman discovered what had occurred.

The Exposition at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 3.—Promptly at 8 o'clock last evening the Exposition Society of Western Pennsylvania threw open the doors of its immense buildings for the third annual exhibition. The display will continue forty days and forty nights. Manager Johnston, who has opened twenty-two expositions, says that the preparations eclipse anything which he has ever known. Cappa, with his famous band, is present.

The Penn Bank Litigation Ended.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 4.—In 1884 Colonel E. J. Unger and others filed a bill in equity against the directors of the Penn bank, to hold them liable for the loss sustained during the second and last openings of that bank. Judge Ewing sustains the finding of Judge Rice, in which the directors are found not liable but ordered to pay the costs, with exception of Severance and Hare, who are ordered to return the amount of deposits they withdrew after the doors were closed.

Salt Works Destroyed by Fire.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 5.—Beck & Co.'s salt works, on Steuben street, were entirely destroyed by fire. The destroyed works, established seventy-five years ago, were probably the oldest in the state. Fireman Dan Hart, of engine company No. 2, was badly burned by falling into a vat of boiling salt water, and several families were driven from their homes by the spread of the flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The works will be rebuilt at once.

A Thrilling Experience.

LANCASTER, Sept. 5.—While he was attempting to cut an electric wire, Charles Welch, of the Edison company, was transfixed with 600 volts of electricity. He shot downward from the bar on which he sat, but his body was caught on a wire underneath, from which he hung unconscious in midair. He was rescued and will recover.

A Great Tobacco Crop.

LANCASTER, Sept. 5.—The tobacco crop of Lancaster county, which is nearly all harvested, is the largest ever grown, the average reaching 18,500 acres and the yield fully 50,000 cases. The damage by hail and rust is about 5 per cent. of the whole crop, the quality of the remainder being very fine.

Alleged Cruelty to the Insane.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—Governor Pattison has made public the charges of cruelty in the state insane asylum made by John C. Reitman, who kept a diary when an employe of the asylum. The acts of alleged brutality include various kinds of assault upon patients, from a punch in the face to murder.

Its First Heat of Steel.

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 5.—The Norristown Steel company has made its first heat of steel. The operation was successful. The open hearth process is used in the two furnaces thus far erected. The company gives employment to about 100 men.

Twenty Mules Cremated.

SHENANDOAH, Sept. 5.—The large mule stables of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company at the West Shenandoah colliery were burned, together with twenty mules. Loss, $6,000.

Lebanon's Ex-Mayor Dead.

LEBANON, Sept. 6.—P. L. Wermer, ex-mayor of this city, died of Bright's disease at the age of sixty-one years.

Forced to Assign.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 7.—A few moments before 12 o'clock Saturday a deed of assignment of James A. Chambers was filed by his attorney, J. Scott Ferguson. The assignee is Major William S. McCandless, of the insurance firm of McCandless & Swearinger. There are $97,000 in mortgages against the Allegheny county estate; a judgment in favor of the estate of Alexander Chambers for $6,281 and costs; two judgments, aggregating $114,000, in favor of Mrs. Martha H. Chambers; a judgment in favor of Sarah Hall for $4,000, and one to Harry B. Patton for $20,000. These all outrank the assignment. Attorney Ferguson cannot yet give an approximate of the assets and liabilities of his client.

Handy with His Gun.

SCRANTON, Sept. 8.—Angelo Volpo, an Italian, was fatally shot by Christian Haar, son of a wealthy farmer at Old Forge, for alleged trespass. Haar is in jail. Volpo's offense consisted in picking wild grapes along the road that skirts the Haar farm. This is the third shooting that young Haar has done at alleged trespassers in the past month.

More Philadelphia Arrests.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—J. Frank Lawrence, formerly a clerk in the Keystone National bank, was arrested Monday on the same charge that Charles R. Edge and L. L. Maguire were arrested on Saturday night, that of having falsified their accounts so that the bank examiner and depositors were deceived.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

BELVERSON, Pa., Nov. 27, '90.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:

Gents—I would like to make known to those who are almost persuaded to use Kendall's Spavin Cure the fact that I think it is a most excellent Liniment. I have used it on a Blood Spavin. The horse went on three legs for three years when I commenced to use your Kendall's Spavin Cure. I used ten bottles on the horse and have worked him for three years since and has not been lame.

Yours truly, WM. A. CURL.

GERMANTOWN, N. Y., Nov. 2, 1889.

DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vt.

Gents: In praise of Kendall's Spavin Cure I will say, that a year ago I had a valuable young horse become very lame, hock enlarged and swollen. The horsemen about here (we have no Veterinary Surgeon here) pronounced his lameness Blood Spavin or Thoroughpin, they all told me there was no cure for it, he became about useless, and I considered him almost worthless. A friend told me of the merits of your Kendall's Spavin Cure, so I bought a bottle, and I could see very plainly great improvements immediately from its use, and before the bottle was used up I was satisfied that it was doing him a great deal of good. I bought a second bottle and before it was used up my horse was cured and has been in the team doing heavy work all the season since last April, showing no more signs of it. I consider your Kendall's Spavin Cure a valuable medicine, and it should be in every stable in the land. Respectfully yours,

EUGENE DEWITT.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

TO LEAD REPUBLICANS.

Delegates Battling Over the Ticket at Rochester.

J. SLOAT FASSETT FOR GOVERNOR

The Indications Seem to Be That He Will Head the New York State Forces. Philip Becker, of Buffalo, Wants First Place or None at All.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Republican state convention is being held in this city today. James M. Varnum, of New York, is the choice of the Republican leaders for permanent chairman. Both ex-Mayor Philip Becker, of Buffalo, and General Wadsworth have declined to withdraw from the contest for the governorship and take the second place on the ticket and the nomination for lieutenant governor will probably go to Albert Einstein.

The action of General Wadsworth was the first check to the Fassett boom, because Fassett has been carrying everything before him with such confidence that his friends had discussed the possibility of nominating him by acclamation. However, they were not greatly discouraged by this, and they endeavored to keep up the Fassett enthusiasm in spite of the failure of the combination with Wadsworth. Before the arrival of the Becker delegation from Buffalo State Senator Laughlin, Mr. Becker's right hand man, finally settled the question of Mr. Fassett's nomination by acclamation. He said that the talk of Becker as a candidate for lieutenant governor was without authority; that Mr. Becker was in the contest for governor and would remain.

J. SLOAT FASSETT.

The Probable Ticket.

Those who claim to know say that this is the ticket most likely to be nominated today:

For Governor—J. Sloat Fassett, of Chemung; for Lieutenant Governor—George B. Sloan, of Oswego; for Secretary of State—John W. Vrooman, of Herkimer; Controller — Edward Einstein, of New York; Attorney General — William A. Sutherland, of Monroe; State Treasurer—Ira M. Hedges, of Rockland; State Engineer and Surveyor—Verplank Colvin, of Albany.

Sloan Was Unwilling.

Senator Sloan reached here last night, and after conferring with ex-Senator Platt, Senators Hiscock and Hendricks, ex-Congressman Burleigh, John W. Vrooman, Richard Marcy and Collector Fassett said he was unwilling to run for lieutenant governor, but would abide by the decision of the delegates. It is believed that he will accept the nomination.

Jones Warns Cleveland.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Husbandman contains the following open letter:

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 8.

Hon. Grover Cleveland New York:

DEAR SIR—Excuse my addressing you through the press, but as the subject considered is one in which the public is greatly interested I deem it proper to do so.

It is understood that you are a candidate for the presidential nomination in 1892. This renders it not only proper but incumbent upon you to take all honorable means to protect your interests, and prevent your friends from complicating you in alliances which may result to your injury. Your friends are taking active interest in our state campaign and are freely using your name in their support of Mr. Flower.

His Strength with the Masses.

Your strength as a presidential candidate lies in your strength with the masses—the wage earners, the toilers and producers. They are a large majority of the people of this country, and they are not in sympathy with the class of people whom Mr. Flower represents. The movement "along the line" manifesting itself in alliances, leagues, various combinations and organizations, as well as the free expression of the people in "daily talk," is a protest against the aggressive power of wealth, now accomplishing its purpose by its free use in debauching the political morals of the people. Yours truly, EDWARD F. JONES.

Will Mr. Jones Run?

ALBANY, Sept. 9.—Lieutenant Governor Jones was closeted with a number of representatives of farmers' organizations in this city Monday night and a long conference was held. It is impossible to learn definitely what was discussed, but the general opinion is that Mr. Jones is quietly paving the way to an independent nomination, whatever may have said to the contrary.

Is Elkins to Be Secretary?

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A Washington special to the New York Press says: "It is reported here on what is considered good authority that Secretary of War Proctor has sent his resignation to President Harrison to take effect on Sept. 30. The same authority says that Stephen B. Elkins, of New York and West Virginia, will assume the duties of secretary of the war department on Oct. 1 by the appointment of the president.

STEPHEN B. ELKINS.

Democratic Governors to Meet.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—Chairman Neal, of the Democratic state committee, is arranging for a meeting of Democratic governors here for Oct. 6. He says that he expects here on that occasion Governors Francis, of Missouri; Stone, of Mississippi; Winans, of Michigan; Russell, of Massachusetts; Jackson, of Maryland; Nichols, of Louisiana; Brown of Kentucky; Fleming, of Florida; Reynolds, of Delaware; Eagle, of Arkansas; Jones, of Alabama; Abbett, of New Jersey; Fowler, of North Carolina; Pattison, of Pennsylvania; Buchanan, of Tennessee; Hogg, of Texas; McKinney, of Virginia; Wilson, of West Virginia; Peck, of Wisconsin; Boise, of Iowa; Boyd, of Nebraska, and Hill, of New York.

New Jersey Republicans to Meet.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 8.—The executive committee of the State League of Republican clubs has decided to hold a state convention of the league on Oct. 15 at Trenton. A call will be issued in a few days.

A SUPPLEMENT.

TO "AN ACT AMENDATORY OF AN ACT FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS," APPROVED MARCH 29TH, ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND SIXTY-NINE.

SECTION I. Be it enacted, &c., That the provisions of "An act amendatory of an act for the punishment of cruelty to animals," approved June one, one thousand eight hundred and eighty three, which enacts that section five of an act, entitled "An act for the punishment of cruelty to animals in this Commonwealth," approved March twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty nine. "Any policeman or constable of any city or county, or any agent of any society or association for the prevention of cruelty to animals, duly incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, shall upon his own view of any such misdemeanor make arrests and bring before any alderman or magistrate thereof, offenders found violating the provisions of this act: Provided, That any persons convicted under the provisions of this act to which this is an amendment, shall have the right to appeal to the court of quarter sessions of the proper county," be amended to read as follows:

SECTION II. That any policeman or constable of any city or county, or any agent of any society or association for the prevention of cruelty to animals, duly incorporated under the laws of this commonwealth shall upon his own view of any snch misdemeanor make arrests and bring before any alderman or magistrate thereof, offenders found violating the provisions of this act: Provided, That any person convicted under the provisions of this act to which this is an amendment, shall have the right to appeal to the court of quarter sessions of the proper county: Provided further, That where a car is performing the duty of a common carrier, there shall be only the right of any policeman or constable of any city or county, or any agent of any society or association for the prevention of cruelty to animals, duly incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, to remove a sick, wounded or disabled horse or mule from any street car that is performing the duty of a common carrier, but not to have the power to arrest the conductor or driver of any such car until they reach the depot or terminus of the road.

APPROVED—The 20th day of June, A. D. 1891.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases.

"There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—F. L. Nickerson, Druggist, 75 Chelsea st., Charlestown, Mass.

"Two years ago I was troubled with salt-rheum. It was all over my body, and nothing the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I can sincerely recommend it as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burt, Upper Keswick, New Brunswick.

"My sister was afflicted with a severe case of

SCROFULA

Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her this medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. O. Jenkins, Deweese, Neb.

"When a boy I was troubled with a blood disease which manifested itself in sores on the legs. Ayer's Sarsaparilla being recommended, I took a number of bottles, and was cured. I have never since that time had a recurrence of the complaint."—J. C. Thompson, Lowell, Mass.

"I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Cures others, will cure you

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."
